

New Perspectives on the Partition of Palestine, 1937-1947

Arie M. Dubnov

Tuesday, December 4, 2018

3:30-5:00 PM

H.J. Patterson Hall, Rm. 4123

(East Wing elevator to the 4th floor)

Arie M. Dubnov is an associate professor of history and the Max Ticktin Chair of Israel Studies at the George Washington University. His latest book, Partitions: A Transnational History of Twentieth-century Territorial Separatism (2019, co-edited with Laura Robson), traces the idea of partition in the British interwar imperial context and connects the links between partition plans in Ireland, Palestine/Israel and India/Pakistan.

Chanukah party at 5:00 PM following the lecture!

Everyone welcome to attend both or either.

Please RSVP by Dec. 3 to Avis Koeiman at akoeiman@umd.edu.

Please let us know which (lecture? party? both?) you will attend.

JOSEPH AND REBECCA MEYERHOFF
PROGRAM AND CENTER FOR JEWISH STUDIES

The Joseph and Alma Goldenhorn
Institute for Israel Studies
University of Maryland

DEPARTMENT of HISTORY
NATHAN & JEANETTE MILLER CENTER for HISTORICAL STUDIES